Ardu-Flex 7001 Timber System – Locks the Mix Water Inside the Adhesive

Fast track tiling to timber floors demands rapid hardening and drying whilst reducing the chance of the mix water affecting the wooden substrate.

With Ardu-Flex 7001 Timber System you can be sure of all three.

Our unique 'Rapidry Formula' dramatically reduces drying and hardening times enabling floor tiles to be trafficked and grouted in just 2 hours alongside chemically binding the mix water inside the adhesive, keeping it safely away from wooden substrates.

Ardu-Flex 7001, with its 'built-in' admix, achieves outstanding results with all tile types including fully vitrified and porcelain. The risk of water discoloration when fixing natural stones is also minimised because the mix water is locked inside the adhesive.

Ardu-Flex 7001 combines the latest adhesive technology with the highest quality materials to provide the best possible solution. So for your next tiling to timber application, think Ardex, after all can you afford to wait?
