

And the winner is...

Arditex (again)

For the fourth year in succession readers of the Contract Flooring Journal have voted the Arditex range of latex-based smoothing compounds from ARDEX as the 'SMOOTHING COMPOUNDS OF THE YEAR'!

But we don't stop at creating benchmark products like Arditex, we strive to improve our service with our popular demonstration days at the ARDEX head office, site visits, the ARDEX technical advice line, and not to mention the flooring industry's most regularly updated web site.

We're honoured to achieve this prestigious award once again and it vindicates our policy of partnership with industry. We continually elicit feedback from the people who matter and then 'engineer in' the features that you have asked for in our products.

With this help and assistance you can be sure we will continue to develop market leading, cost efficient products backed with the service that you expect.

Roll on 2003!
